OTHER GRIDIRON GOSSIP

Coach Madden Is Driving Catholic University Team for Maryland Aggies Contest.

Several shifts were made in the varsity football team at Georgetown yesterday by Coach Exendine in an attempt to whip into shape a team that will make a creditable showing against the Navy next Saturday.

Quarterback Sam Foley was relegated to the second team, while McCarthy, who was out for halfback on the varsity and who played this position during part of the Fordham game, was also shifted over to the scrubs and placed at left tackle, a position where he is very much at home and where he put up a rattling good exhibition.

The scrubs were given a number of the Navy formations and used the plays to good effect, scoring a touchdown on the first try.

Pat Conwell and Gormley, the big linemen, who are on the side lines in account of injuries, followed the plays and both expect to be in uniform tomorrow or Friday.

The senior class started an innovation yesterday by coming out 20 strong and announcing their intentions of having university athletic association money for forming a painting brigade and armed with pots and brushes they started work painting the wooden seats bottle green color.

The paint gave out before the job was completed, but the seniors expect to finish the job in a day or so.

Gurry one of the regulars last year is in charge of the freshmen football team, and had a dozen or more candidates out for practice yesterday.

Coach Exendine plans to hold a stiff scrimmage this afternoon and tomorrow during which a number of new plays which will be turned loose at Annapolis Saturday, will be tried.

All reports of the calling off of the Catholic University and Maryland Agricultural College game, scheduled for next Saturday, were denied yesterday by Manager Lynch, of the Brooklanders. Although neither eleven has rounded into form the coaches are anxious to have the game played so that the weak spots of the team may be shown.

Twenty-seven players reported to Coach Madden, of the Brooklanders yesterday, and in order to round the eleven into some kind of shape for the opening game of the season, Coach Madden has decided to hold a series of scrimmages for the next three days. Forty minutes of scrimmage were held and the varsity manager plans to cross the line three times, although nothing but straight plays were used.

Jack Lynch, O'Rourke and Walters, of last season's eleven, are expected out today, and with the addition of these to the squad Coach Madden expects to round the eleven into form for the inaugural contest.

Milton "Pumps" Turner, who captained the Vigilant Athletic Club team here last season yesterday entered the textile department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, of North Carolina.

Turner should prove a good man for the Tar Heel outfit, and Coach Hoots expects to send the big tackle into the game Saturday.
